RICHARD JOHNSON

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Richard Johnson is in his tenth year as director of athletics at Wofford College. The former head basketball coach has been an instrumental figure on campus for over 25 years.

Johnson officially began his new duties on Dec. 3, 2001. In 17 years as head basketball coach at Wofford (1985-2002), Johnson had a 100 percent graduation rate for all players who completed their eligibility under him. He was the runner-up for SoCon Coach of the Year honors twice in the Terriers' five seasons of league play under him. His 200th win was a 79-74 victory at Clemson during the 1999-2000 campaign.

A 1976 graduate of The Citadel, Johnson came to Wofford after serving nine years as a basketball assistant at his alma mater under then-coach and now athletic director Les Robinson. Johnson also holds an MBA from The Citadel.

DR. JAMEICA HILL

FACULTY ATHLETIC REPRESENTATIVE

Dr. Jameica Hill, a professor of chemistry, is in her fifth year as the Faculty Athletic Representative (FAR) at Wofford.

In her role as the FAR, Dr. Hill represents Wofford to the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Southern Conference. The FAR is responsible for certifying the eligibility of student-athletes and assuring integrity in the eligibility process. In addition to supervising athletics policies, the FAR also serves as a liaison between the faculty and the student athletes, looking out for their individual well-being with regard to academics and athletics.

Hill, a native of Due West, S.C. and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, earned her Ph.D. degree in inorganic chemistry at Clemson University, where she was a Graduate Teaching Assistant of the Year. She received Wofford's 1995 Martin Luther King Jr. Humanitarian Award and was also an associate director for a summer program that was funded by a grant from the Howard Hughes Medical Center.

COACHING STAFF

Edgar I. Farmer, Jr.

Head Women's Basketball Coach
Seventh Season
North Carolina (1994)

Edgar I. Farmer Jr. is entering his sixth season at the helm of the Wofford women's basketball program in 2009-10.

In his seven years, Farmer has installed a new enthusiasm among the players and has created an environment ripe for winning.

Last season's team finished in the top ten in four Wofford team statistical categories: His team entered the record books in three point field goal attempted, three point field goals made, offensive rebounds, defensive rebounds, total rebounds and blocked shots. They also finished in the top five in the Southern Conference in four categories. Kelly Dwyer finished a top the conference in steals, and Mahagony Williams was third in field goal percentage and fifth in rebounding. Nationally the team finished 76th in blocked shots per game. Dwyer also finished 42 in steals per game nationally.

In 2008-09, Farmer coached the team to highs in several statistical categories in both the Southern Conference and on the national scene. The Terriers finished 2008-09 as the Southern Conference leader in both blocked shots and steals. Among NCAA Division I schools, Wofford ranked 11th in blocked shots and 26th in steals at the end of the 2008-09 season.

2008-09 also saw the Terriers set a new Southern Conference record for blocks in a single game with 14 against Furman on February 7. The previous league record of 13 blocks was set by Marshall against Youngstown State during the 1988-89 season.

In 2008, Farmer helped lead Wofford to its first win in the Southern Conference Tournament since 2002 when it defeated rival Furman during the opening round.

Then-junior Liz Miller was selected to the second team all-tournament squad following the two-game run in the SoCon Tournament by the Terriers.

Farmer was also on the bench when Mahagony Williams was named the Southern Conference Freshman of the Year in 2007-08 by both the league's head coaches and the Southern Conference Sports Media Association. She became the first player in school history to garner the honor.

Williams was also tabbed to the league's all-freshman team, becoming the first Wofford player under Farmer's watch to receive postseason accolades from the Southern Conference.

Under his coaching, Wofford has never been afraid to face a challenging schedule. Last season, the Terriers faced Virginia Tech, North Carolina and Kentucky out of conference and came within 10 points of defeating UK on the road in January. A year earlier, Wofford nearly upset Wake Forest, falling by just two to the Demon Deacons.

Farmer guided the Terriers to their best record in five seasons in 2006-07, capping the campaign with an opening-round bye in the Southern Conference Tournament as the No. 6 seed. Wofford completed the year with a 13-16 record, including a 7-11 mark in league action which included season sweeps over College of Charleston, Elon and Appalachian State. The Terriers also scored a thrilling 68-65 home overtime triumph against perennial league stronghold Davidson on Senior Day.

Wofford played its first-ever home televised contest Jan. 6, 2007, when it welcomed College of Charleston to the Benjamin Johnson Arena.

Along the way, Farmer became just the second coach in school history, joining David Graves, to increase his or her win total each year through his or her first three seasons on the bench. Even more remarkable about this feat is Farmer has done it against Division I competition, some of the best opponents the Terriers have ever faced.

Senior Jennifer Weurding was named the Southern Conference Player of the Week during the final week of the regular season, becoming just the third Wofford player to garner the accolade in school history.

Then-junior Kelsi Koenig was named to the 2006-07 preseason all-league squad as voted upon by the Southern Conference Sports Media Association.

The Newport News, Va., native helped the Terriers rank No. 1 nationally during 2005-06 in steals per game, topping such national programs as North Carolina, Duke, Georgia and LSU. Wofford led the country in the statistical category much of the season and also finished third nationally in total steals, ranking only behind North Carolina and Duke despite playing in fewer games.

Farmer also was on the sidelines as the Terriers made their first-ever TV appearance when Wofford played at Furman Feb. 11, 2006, on Comcast/Charter Sports Southeast (CSS).

In 2005-06, the team broke several school and individual records, including then-junior Weurding becoming the school's all-time leader in blocked shots with 172. Weurding concluded her career with 253, 32 more than the next closest on the career Southern Conference list.

With the 65-46 season-opening win over Coker Nov. 19, 2004, Farmer became just the second head coach in Terrier history to earn a victory in his or her debut.

He previously spent two seasons as a Terrier assistant, in 2002-03 and 2003-04. He was involved in all aspects of the game, including recruiting, individual and team development and on-court coaching.

"After an exhaustive search involving many applicants, we determined that our best candidate was in-house," Wofford athletic director Richard Johnson said at the time of his hiring. "Edgar has done an excellent job as an assistant with our women's basketball program and we believe he's ready to take the next step in his coaching career."

"Edgar is a very impressive individual. With his two years on our campus (at the time of his hiring), he has a tremendous understanding of the Wofford community. He's a great fit for our department and college. We believe our women's basketball program will benefit from his strong leadership."

Farmer came to Wofford after working two years as an assistant coach at East Carolina. While with the Lady Pirates, Farmer served as the summer camp director and community service coordinator. He was also given the tasks of opponent scouting, film exchange, on-campus recruiting and unofficial visits and pre and postseason workout development with the trainers and strength staff.

"It's an honor and privilege to be a part of the great tradition of Wofford," Farmer said. "I'm truly excited about this position and grateful to Richard Johnson and the Wofford administration for providing me the opportunity."

"Our young ladies are talented on and off the court. We hope to emulate the Wofford football team's success and I'm confident our players can get it done."

He also served as the head coach of a women's basketball select team for Planet Basketball that competed in Finland and Poland in August 2001.

Farmer was also an assistant men's basketball coach at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M Junior College. He served as an adjunct professor of African-American history and as a faculty advisor during his stay in Miami, Okla.

He also coached the AAU Garner Flames, including stints with the 14, 15 and 16-under age groups as an assistant coach and then as the head coach for the 17-under squad.

During the summer months of 1997, Farmer interned with Pro Management Plus which enabled him to maintain the director's role for the NBA camps of Allan Houston and John Starks.

Farmer is a 1994 graduate of the University of North Carolina, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in African-American studies. While in Chapel Hill, he was a member of the junior varsity men's basketball team.

After graduating, he was an assistant coach under Randy Wiel for the Tar Heel junior varsity squad.

In 1993-94, he was the audio-visual technical coordinator for the national champion North Carolina women's basketball team. Farmer filmed practices and games and assisted in the film breakdown.

Farmer is recently engaged to Miss Tara Brooks, an assistant coach of the Wofford volleyball team.

COACHING STAFF

Ed Geth

Assistant Women's Basketball Coach
Seventh Season
North Carolina (1996)

Beginning his seventh season as an assistant coach with the Terrier program is Ed Geth. Geth was appointed to the position in September 2004 by head coach Edgar I. Farmer Jr.

Geth primarily works with the post players and also serves as the travel coordinator for the Terriers. During his tenure, he has helped to develop Wofford's and the SoCon's all-time leading shot blocker Jenny Weurding (281 career blocks) and Southern Conference Freshman of the Year, Mahagony Williams, who became the first Terrier women's player to receive the honor.

Geth joined the program after serving as an assistant coach with the Maryland Nighthawks of the American Basketball Association under head coach James "Twiggy" Sanders. Prior to arriving in Upper Marlboro, Md., he was the director of an after-school program at Neal Middle School in Durham, N.C., which brought after school and family programs to low income and low-performing schools.

He also has coached boys' and girls' basketball at Southern Durham High School, including the squad which advanced to the state championship in 2004. The team won its conference title four of the last five seasons in which he was involved. Geth has instructed numerous Division I athletes, including David Noel (North Carolina, NBA's Milwaukee Bucks), Anthony King (Miami, Fla.) and Alex Miller (North Carolina) while at the high school level.

He earned a national championship ring playing for North Carolina in 1993 when the Tar Heels knocked off Michigan in the finals, 77-71. A four-year letterman in Chapel Hill, he was also a member of the 1995 squad which advanced to the Final Four.

Geth played for coaches Dean Smith and Bill Guthridge and was teammates with future NBA players Rasheed Wallace, Jerry Stackhouse, Antawn Jamison, Vince Carter, Jeff McInnis, Shammond Williams, Makhtar Ndiaye, George Lynch and Eric Montross. He still remains best friends with former teammates Ndiaye and Donald Williams (1993 Final Four Most Outstanding Player). In his collegiate career, he played in 62 games from 1992-93 to 1995-96 and hit 52.5 percent of his field goal attempts.

After completing his North Carolina career, he played professionally overseas in Sweden, Saudi Arabia and Singapore, as well as with the United States Basketball League's Raleigh Cougars in 1997-98. Each of the teams he had been associated with reached their respective championship games. The Ittihad Basketball Club of Saudi Arabia and the Sin Kee Basketball Club of Singapore won their respective titles.

A native of Norfolk, Va., he graduated from Chapel Hill in 1996 with a bachelor's degree in speech communications.

While at Granby High School, Geth was an honor roll student and All-American player. He played in the 1992 McDonalds Capital Classic All-Star Game and was a member of an AAU team with future NBA stars Allen Iverson and Joe Smith. He garnered seven varsity letters at Granby in basketball and track & field.

Geth married the former Lisa Burston in August 2000, and the couple has an 10-year-old daughter, Mya, and a 3-year-old son, Ed Jr.

2009-10 GAME RESULTS

Game 1

Campbell 80, Wofford 78
November 13, 2009

BUIES CREEK, N.C. – The Wofford women's basketball team opened the 2009-10 season against Campbell, falling 78-80 in a hard-fought battle against the Lady Camels.

Geami Britt led four players in double-digit scoring with 15 points, including a jumper with 48 seconds remaining to give the Lady Camels a one-point lead. Although Wofford outscored Campbell in the second half, 42-40, the Lady Camels' .569 field goal percentage proved too much to overcome.

The game opened with misses on both sides of the court, with the first points being scored at the 17:54 mark on a layup from Campbell's Ashley Williamson. A jumper from Mahogany Williams evened the score at two, and the Terriers were able to gain momentum to build a 13-10 lead. The teams traded three-pointers, leaving Wofford up by three at 16-13 before two straight three-pointers from Rachel Brittenham gave the Terriers a nine-point advantage, their largest of the half.

Wofford maintained the lead until the 6:30 mark, when a three-pointer from Britt tied the score at 26, the fourth tie of the game. The Lady Camels took their first lead since the opening shot off another trey by Britt but the Terriers quickly tied the score at 29 and reclaimed the lead. The Wofford advantage wouldn't last for long, however, and the final minutes of the first half saw the Lady Camels capitalize on two free throws and a two-point shot to take the 40-36 lead at halftime.

Freshman Rachel Brittenham led Wofford in the first half with nine points, going 2-3 from beyond the arc and shooting 3-3 from the free throw line.

Campbell carried the momentum into the opening minutes of the second half, widening its lead to eight points at the 19 minute mark and maintaining at least a three-point lead over the next 11 minutes. A three-pointer from Ashley Kroker with 7:40 remaining tied the score for the first time in the second half at 62 and a made jumper from Maddie Helms gave the Terriers their first advantage of the half.

Neither team led by more than three points in the final seven minutes of the game, with the advantage changing four times before a made jumper from Britt put the Lady Camels up by one with 48 seconds remaining. A Terrier turnover gave the ball back to Campbell, who took advantage of the miscue by pushing its lead to three. A layup from Gramblin with six seconds remaining put the Terriers within one, but a Campbell free throw allowed the Lady Camels to hang on, despite a last-second shot from Gramblin that fell short.

Three players recorded double-digit points for the Terriers, with freshman Mariah Masalin, senior Kathryn Varno and junior Maddie Helms contributing 11 points apiece. Masalin earned her first collegiate start and added three assists, three rebounds and a steal for the Terriers. Senior Kelly Dwyer led Wofford with six rebounds and two blocks while also adding three assists and six points to the effort. Junior Mahogany Williams opened the season with nine points and five boards, while freshman Rachel Brittenham also added nine points.

Wofford 77, Norfolk State 75 (OT)
November 18, 2009

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – The first and only home game in 2009 for the Wofford women's basketball team was an overtime thriller, with the Terriers claiming a 77-75 win over Norfolk State. Kathryn Varno and Maddie Helms led four players in double-digit scoring with 18 points apiece as the Terriers earned their first win of the season.

Wofford scored the first points of the game off a layup by senior Varno, but less than a minute and a half later, the Spartans claimed a 4-2 lead off a good jumper from Whitney Long. The Terriers managed a five point lead at the 14-minute mark and extended it to seven with 10:58 remaining, but a quick three-pointer for Norfolk State cut the lead to three.

A 17-17 deadlock at the 9:22 mark gave way to a four-point lead for the visiting Spartans, but two good free throws from freshman Mariah Masalin put the Terriers within two, enabling them to grab the lead off a three-pointer from Masalin. After a brief one-point lead for the Spartans at 24-23, the Terrier regained the lead and held on, heading into half time with a 35-33 advantage.

The Terriers extended their lead to as many as eight points by the 12-minute mark of the second half, maintaining a comfortable lead until an 8-0 run by the Spartans tied the score at 55 with 6:42 remaining. From there, the momentum swung to the Spartans, who built a five point lead with 1:38 remaining. A free-throw shot from Natalie Gramblin and two layups by junior Mahogany Williams kept the Terriers in the game, tying the score at 66 and forcing the game into overtime.

Gramblin knocked down two free throws as the first scores of the overtime period, but the points were quickly canceled by a two-pointer from the Spartans' Marquilla Evans. Norfolk State grabbed a quick lead off a free throw shot from Evans with 3:26 left, but junior Maddie Helms gave the Terriers the spark they needed, nailing two three-pointers in less than 30 seconds to put Wofford up by five. The Spartans surged to cut the lead to one point with seven seconds remaining, but Gramblin knocked down a free throw to pull off the win for the Terriers.

Whitney Long led the Spartans with 19 total points, while Marquilla Evans added 15 and Marian Brooks contributed 10. Evans led the Spartans in rebounds with eight, including seven defensive boards. Freshman Recca Trice added five assists for the Spartans.

Two Terriers notched double-doubles in the home opener, with four players recording double-digit points. Senior Kathryn Varno led the team with a career-high 18 points and 12 rebounds , while junior Maddie Helms also recorded 18 points. Junior Mahogany Williams picked up a double-double with 10 points and led the team with 15 rebounds. Junior Kelly Dwyer also matched her career-high 16 points on 8-10 shooting from the field, while also adding a career-best five steals. As a team, the Terriers out-rebounded the Spartans 64 to 39.

The second half saw the Terriers outscore the Catamounts 37 to 35. A quick layup from Heather Swayne put the Catamounts up by 10 to begin the half, but within four minutes Wofford was able to cut the lead to a mere two points, helped by seven points from junior Maddie Helms. Two minutes later, however, the Catamounts were back on top with a nine point lead, which they extended to as many as 14 before the Terriers responded.

Wofford would cut the lead to six with 8:19 remaining in the half, and was able to get within four points with seconds remaining on the clock, but fell just short, with Western Carolina claiming the 71-65 win.

Kendra Carroll led the Catamounts with 18 points while junior Emily Clarke added 17 and senior Jessica Jackson contributed 11. Three Catamounts recorded six rebounds apiece, with Clarke, Heather Swayne and Brittany Ferguson each grabbing six boards.

Wofford was led by junior Maddie Helms, who knocked down 19 points, including shooting 4-6 from beyond the arc. Senior Kelly Dwyer added 14 points and led the team with five blocks and four assists. Senior Kathlyn Varno tallied 13 and fellow senior Natalie Gramblin recorded 10 in the loss. Junior Mahogany Williams led the team with 12 rebounds and added eight points and two blocks.

With the win, Western Carolina improves to 1-2 on the season and opens conference play 1-0. Wofford falls to 1-3 overall and 0-1 in the Southern Conference. The Terriers will not face a league opponent again until December 5 when they travel to Samford. Wofford will next make the trip to Washington, D.C. to visit Georgetown. Game time is set for 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, November 28.

Game 5

Georgetown 90, Wofford 57
November 28, 2009

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Freshman Sugar Rodgers led five players in double-digit scoring with 25 points as the Georgetown Hoyas earned a 90-57 win over the Wofford women's basketball team Saturday.

Wofford opened the game with a quick score to take a 2-0 lead, but it would be the Terriers' only lead of the game, as the Hoyas quickly evened the score at two and took a 5-2 lead off a three-pointer at the 18-minute mark. Wofford would tie the score at five off their own three-pointer from senior Kristin Bradley, but less than a minute later Georgetown would regain the lead with a good layup.

Georgetown maintained the lead for the next five minutes, before the Terriers were able to narrow the lead to one point off a Mahogany Williams' layup that brought the score to 14-15 with nine and a half minutes left in the half. The Hoyas took a six point lead before Wofford was again able to bring the score within one, this time at 21-22 with less than six minutes remaining. The Hoyas would pull away again, leading by as many as 12 points before heading into halftime with a comfortable 38-28 lead.

The Hoyas continued to build on their lead in the opening minutes of the second half, going on an 8-0 run in the first two minutes to take a 47-28 advantage. Wofford could not contain Georgetown for the remainder of the contest, with the Hoyas leading by as many as 35 points before claiming the 90-57 win.

Rodgers' 25 points led five Hoyas in double-digit scoring, as Georgetown scored 49 points off 42 Terrier turnovers. Latia Magee added 16 points, Jalessa Butler added 11 and Rubylee Wright and Monica McNutt each added 10 points. Magee also paced the Hoyas with five rebounds.

The Terriers were led by senior Natalie Gramblin and junior Mahogany Williams, who each recorded 13 points. Gramblin shot 11-12 from the free throw line, while Williams went a perfect 6-6 from the field and added one free throw. Williams also led the team in rebounds with five, while freshman Daniella Motley helped pace Wofford with five boards. Senior Kelly Dwyer notched six assists for the Terriers.

With the win, Georgetown improves to 5-2 on the season while Wofford falls to 1-4 overall. The Terriers will travel to Boiling Springs, N.C. to take on Gardner-Webb Tuesday, December 1. Game time is set for 7:00 p.m.

Game 6

Gardner-Webb 78, Wofford 55
December 1, 2009

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. – Courtney Epps and Monique Hudson each recorded 18 points as they led Gardner-Webb to a 78-55 victory over the Wofford women's basketball team Tuesday.

The game began with neither team scoring for the first minute and a half of play. Gardner-Webb was the first to break the dry spell, knocking down a free throw to take a 1-0 lead. The free throw sparked a 6-0 run for the Lady Bulldogs, who would not trail for the remainder of the contest.

The Terriers got on the board with a layup from Mahogany Williams at the 15:23 mark, but the Bulldogs had an answer in the form of a three-pointer from Courtney Epps. Wofford was able to narrow the gap to only three points after Ashley Kroker downed two free throws, bringing the score to 8-11, but two three-pointers from Gardner-Webb's Courtney Epps pushed the lead to 17-8.

Wofford refused to give in, going on an eight-point run with 10 minutes remaining in the half to climb within four points. However, the Bulldogs turned up the defense, keeping the Terriers scoreless for almost five minutes until a three-pointer from freshman Kelly Blake broke the dry spell. Capitalizing on the Terriers' shooting troubles, Gardner-Webb went on an 11-0 run to head into halftime with a 35-22 lead.

In the second half, Monique Hudson led the attack for the Bulldogs, draining three straight treys and lifting Gardner-Webb to a 50-28 lead in the first five minutes. Wofford could not contain the Bulldogs in the second half, and despite a seven-point run keyed by another three-pointer from Kelly Blake, Gardner-Webb claimed the 78-55 win.

Epps and Hudson led the Bulldogs with 18 points apiece, with junior Monique Hudson adding 12. Epps, Breyanna Winkler and Sandra Vaitkute each grabbed five rebounds.

Junior Mahogany Williams led the Terriers with 12 points. A trio of freshmen performed well for Wofford, with Lindsay Cowher adding nine points and three rebounds, Kelly Blake scoring six points and grabbing three rebounds and Rachel Brittenham leading the team with six boards. Wofford out-rebounded the Bulldogs 42-37.

With the win, Gardner-Webb improves to 7-1 on the season and extends its winning streak to seven games. The Terriers fall to 1-5 overall, and will travel to Birmingham, Ala. Saturday to take on another set of Bulldogs at Samford.

2009-10 GAME RESULTS

Game 7

Samford 71, Wofford 58
December 5, 2009

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Despite a close first half, the Wofford women's basketball team was unable to overcome a solid offensive effort by the Samford Bulldogs, falling 71-58 in Southern Conference action.

Wofford took an early 2-0 lead off a jumper by Mahogany Williams a minute and a half into the contest. Samford answered with a two-pointer at the 17:39 mark to tie the score at two, then took a 5-2 lead off a three-pointer from Emily London. Both teams remained scoreless for the next four minutes, with Wofford breaking the dry spell at 12:46 off another jumper from Williams.

The Terriers took the lead at 13-10 with almost ten minutes remaining in the half, but the Bulldogs answered with a 6-0 run to take a 16-13 advantage. Samford continued to build its lead to as many as six points before Wofford mounted a comeback.

The Terriers managed to tie the score at 25 with 1:31 remaining in the half, but a two-pointer from Monica Maxwell, two good free-throws from Hannah Dawson and a three-pointer at the buzzer by Paige Anderson gave the Bulldogs a 33-25 lead heading into halftime.

The teams traded baskets to open the second half, but three three-pointers from Samford helped the Bulldogs build a 49-39 lead at the 11:37 mark. The Bulldogs would add three more three-pointers before the eight minute mark, and were able to hold the Terriers scoreless for almost six minutes while racking up a 13-0 run themselves. Samford's 62-41 lead was its largest of the half.

The Terrier dry spell was broken by a three-pointer from freshman Rachel Brittenham, and a jumper from Brittenham helped cut the Bulldog lead in half at 57-67 with less than a minute remaining, but Wofford was unable to match the Samford offensive effort, falling 71-58.

The Bulldogs were led by Emily London's 20 points, while Hannah Dawson and Savannah Hill added 13 and 12, respectively. Dawson led the team with 7-6 free throws, while London added three steals in the win.

Mahogany Williams and Natalie Gramblin led the Terriers with 13 points apiece, while freshman Rachel Brittenham added 11. Williams led the team with seven rebounds, while Kathryn Varno grabbed six boards and Brittenham and Kelly Dwyer each added five. Brittenham also added five assists, while Williams recorded three blocks.

With the win, Samford improves to 7-2 on the season and 2-1 in the Southern Conference while Wofford falls to 1-6 overall and 0-2 in league play. The Terriers will travel to Chattanooga on Wednesday, December 9 to take on the Mocs. Game time is set for 7:00 p.m.

Game 8

Chattanooga 89, Wofford 71
December 9, 2009

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. – Despite a mere one-point deficit at the end of the first half, the Wofford women's basketball team fell to Chattanooga, 89-71 in Southern Conference action Wednesday.

The Terriers put the first points on the board off a layup from Mahogany Williams. Chattanooga answered with a three-pointer from Jenaya Wade-Fray and took a lead of its own at 5-4 at the 18:34 mark. Wofford regained the lead less than a minute later and continued to control much of the first half, leading by as many as six points and maintaining the advantage until a breakaway layup from Wade-Fray tied the score at 32 with 3:15 remaining in the half.

Another layup from Wade-Fray gave the Mocs a 34-32 advantage, which they stretched to a four-point lead at 39-35 before a three-pointer from Ashley Kroker sparked a Terrier run. Wofford held a brief 40-39 lead before a two-pointer from Kayla Christopher with 24 seconds remaining gave the advantage to the Mocs heading into the break.

The two teams traded baskets to open the second half, keeping the score close until a three-pointer from Wade-Fray sparked an 8-0 run that put the Mocs up 51-42. The run gave Chattanooga the momentum as the Mocs took advantage of a few Terrier miscues to extend their lead to as many as 20 points en route to an 89-71 lead.

Head coach Edgar Farmer commented on the game, "I thought we played a really strong first half. Both teams were doing a great job, a lot of back and forth scoring, but in the second half the Lady Mocs made a run that we just couldn't respond to. The second half was the difference in the game. I was proud of the way our basketball team played tonight. We just didn't execute in the right moments in the second half. Overall, I thought we played with great intensity."

Jenaya Wade-Fray led four players in double-digit scoring with 18 points while also adding five steals. Redshirt freshman Michelle Davis added 17 points, sophomore Kori Penland contributed 14 and freshman Kayla Christopher recorded 13 points in the win. Davis led the team with eight rebounds.

The Terriers were led by junior Mahogany Williams, who recorded 18 points and eight rebounds. Senior Natalie Gramblin added 10 points and four assists while senior Kelly Dwyer paced the team with four steals and contributed four assists. Junior Ashley Kroker added nine points in the loss.

With the win, Chattanooga improves to 4-5 overall and 2-1 in the Southern Conference while Wofford falls to 1-7 on the season and 0-3 in league play. The Terriers continue their stretch of road games with a trip to Davidson, N.C. to take on the Wildcats. Game time is set for 2:00 p.m. on December 13.

Game 9

Davidson 90, Wofford 68
December 13, 2009

DAVIDSON, N.C. – Wofford women's basketball fell to Davidson in Southern Conference action Sunday, after a 17-5 run in the early part of the second half gave the Wildcats the advantage they needed to claim a 90-68 win.

The Terriers scored a quick two points to open the game, but the Wildcats answered with a basket of their own to bring the game to the first tie of seven in the first half. From there the teams traded baskets, leaving the score tied at five before the Terriers grabbed an 8-7 lead off a three-pointer from Maddie Helms.

The third tie of the game came at 8-8 when the Wildcats' Kristen Johnsen made a free throw with 17 minutes remaining in the half. Davidson recorded a brief 4-0 run, but the Terriers answered with four points of their own, bringing the score to an even 14-14.

A jumper from Davidson's Sophia Aleksandravicius sparked a 17-7 run for the Wildcats, giving them a comfortable 31-21 lead with 7:08 left in the first half. The Terriers turned up the defense, holding the Wildcats scoreless for more than five minutes of play while going on an 11-0 run themselves to come out on top, with the score at 32-31 and 2:04 left to play.

Wofford took advantage of two key Davidson fouls, knocking down four free throws in the last minute and a half of play to keep the score within two heading into the half down 36-38.

The Wildcats opened the second half with a 9-3 run to take a 47-38 lead, but the Terriers stormed back with a 7-0 run, bringing the score with two points at 45-47. The two point deficit would be the closest Wofford would get in the second half, however, as Davidson responded with a 17-5 run, and would lead by as many as 25 points en route to a 90-68 win.

Freshman Aleksandravicius led four Wildcats in double-digit scoring with 26 points and paced the team with nine rebounds. Senior Julia Paquette added 15 points while senior Alex Thompson recorded 14 and added six assists and sophomore Chloe Woodington contributed 11.

The Terriers were led by junior Maddie Helms, who recorded 18 points. Seniors Kathryn Varno and Kelly Dwyer and junior Ashley Kroker each added 10 points, a career high for Kroker. Varno paced the terriers with eight total rebounds, while Dwyer led the team with five assists and added five rebounds.

With the win, Davidson improves to 3-7 overall and 3-1 in Southern Conference play while Wofford falls to 1-8 on the season and 0-4 in league play. The Terriers will continue their eight-game road trip with a non-conference matchup against Wake Forest on Saturday, December 19.

2009-10 GAME RESULTS

Game 10

Wake Forest 85, Wofford 55
December 19, 2008

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. – Lakevia Boykin led five players in double-digit scoring to pace Wake Forest to an 85-55 win over Wofford on Saturday.

The Demon Deacons opened the game with a quick three-pointer from Mykala Walker, but the Terriers tied the score at 4 off two straight layups from Natalie Gramblin. Wake Forest reclaimed the lead on another trey, this time from Camille Collier and built their lead to 10 points at 22-12. The Terriers responded with a 7-0 run to bring the score within three points at 19-22, but could not match the Demon Deacons, falling behind by as many as 13 points before heading into halftime down by 12 points at 31-43.

Wake Forest continued to build its lead in the second half. Wofford managed to keep its deficit to less than 20 points for the first five minutes, but a six minute scoring drought from the field hurt the Terriers and allowed the Demon Deacons to claim a 28 point advantage with 10 minutes remaining. Wake Forest would lead by as many as 36 points before recording the 85-55 win.

Boykin paced Wake Forest with 14 points, while Brittany Waters, Secily Ray, Patrice Johnson and Asia Williams each contributed 10 points in the win. Ray notched a double-double with 11 rebounds while Brooke Thomas led the Demon Deacons with seven assists.

The Terriers were led by senior Natalie Gramblin's 18 points, 15 of which she scored in the first half. Senior Kelly Dwyer added 14 points and grabbed five rebounds. Freshman Daniella Motley led the Terriers with six boards and also added two steals.

With the win, Wake Forest improves to 8-3 on the season, while Wofford falls to 1-9 overall. The Terriers will play their last game of 2009 on Monday, December 21 when they travel to Clemson, S.C. to take on the Tigers. Game time is set for 7:00 p.m.

Game 11

Clemson 67, Wofford 51
December 21, 2008

CLEMSON, S.C. – Despite only trailing by four points at the half, the Wofford women's basketball team fell to Clemson Monday by a score of 67-51.

The Terriers opened with a 4-0 lead off an opening jumper from Kelly Dwyer and another less than a minute later from Mahogany Williams. The Tigers answered with a layup, but the Terriers were able to maintain a slight lead for more than six minutes into the contest, when a jumper from Lele Hardy gave the Tigers their first lead at 10-9.

The two teams traded baskets before a five-point Clemson run stretched the Tiger lead to 17-11. The momentum shift helped Clemson to a 10-point lead before the Terriers answered with a layup and a free throw shot from Williams to cut the Tiger lead to seven.

A three-pointer from Maddie Helms put the Terriers within four with three minutes remaining in the half. A Clemson layup was answered by Helms to keep the score within four points at 24-28 heading into the break.

Wofford pulled within two points in the first three minutes of the half, using a layup by Kelly Dwyer to cut the Tigers' lead to 32-30. After a pair of traded baskets, a fastbreak layup from freshman Mariah Masalin tied the score at 34. The teams traded baskets again and after another tie at 36, Clemson recorded a 12-2 run to take a 48-38 lead with 8:31 remaining.

The Terriers struggled to keep up with a hot-shooting Tiger team in the second half, as Clemson recorded a 42.4 shooting percentage from the field. The Tigers would lead by as many as 19 points in the second half, holding the Terriers scoreless from the field for more than five minutes. A three-pointer from Natalie Gramblin with 1:24 remaining would be the last basket of the game as the Tigers claimed the 65-51 win.

Senior Lele Hardy led the Tigers with 21 points, 10 rebounds and five assists while sophomore Shaniqua Pauldo added 15 points and nine boards. Clemson grabbed 54 total rebounds while shooting just under 40 percent from the field.

Junior Mahogany Williams notched a double-double, pacing the Terriers with 14 points and 14 rebounds. Senior Natalie Gramblin added 10 points while senior Kelly Dwyer and freshman Rachel Brittenham each contributed four assists.

With the win, Clemson improves to 9-4 overall while Wofford falls to 1-10 on the season. The Terriers will resume Southern Conference play in the new year as they take on Furman on January 5. Game time is set for 7:00 p.m. in Timmons Arena on the campus of Furman University.

Game 12

Furman 72, Wofford 53
January 5, 2010

GREENVILLE, S.C. – Despite a near-career high 19 points from Mahogany Williams, the Wofford women's basketball team fell by a score of 72-53 at nearby Furman in their first contest of 2010.

Furman rallied behind 22 points from freshman Raegan Thompson and a team three-point field goal percentage of nearly 50 percent.

The Terriers opened the first half with a two-point basket from Mahogany Williams to take the early 2-0 lead, but it would be Wofford's only lead of the game, as Furman answered with a three-pointer from Thompson and a second trey from senior Kali Holtfretter to regain a 6-2 lead.

A tied score at six quickly dissipated as the Paladins went on a 12-2 run over five minutes to take a 20-8 advantage with 10 minutes remaining in the first half. The Terriers were able to cut the Paladin lead to single digits at the 5:21 mark off two made free throws from Kelly Blake, but Furman headed into halftime with its largest lead thus far, holding the 37-21 advantage at the break.

In the opening five minutes of the second half, Furman managed to extend its lead to as many as 24 points, and despite cutting the lead to 15 with eight minutes left, the Terriers were unable to mount an offensive attack, falling 72-53.

Thompson's 22 points led three Paladins in double-digit scoring, with Kendra Berry adding 14 and Lee Stephens contributing 12. Stephens also led the team in assists with six, while Berry notched a double-double, grabbing 11 rebounds. Also notching double-digit boards was freshman Lakyn Ledford, who grabbed 10.

Williams recorded 19 points for the Terriers, one shy of her career-high 20. The junior from Little Rock, Ark. also grabbed a double-double with 11 rebounds and added five blocks. Freshman Domi Gergely contributed eight points in her first collegiate outing, and senior Kelly Dwyer grabbed seven steals for the Terriers.

With the win, Furman improves to 5-11 overall and 3-4 in Southern Conference play while Wofford falls to 1-11 on the season and 0-5 in league play. The Terriers will return home Friday, January 8 to host UNC Greensboro in a 6:00 p.m. matchup in Benjamin Johnson Arena.

2009-10 GAME RESULTS

Wofford 61, UNC Greensboro 60
January 8, 2010

SPARTANBURG, S.C. -- Junior Mahogany Williams recorded her third straight double-double to lead the Terriers to their first Southern Conference win of the season, outlasting UNC Greensboro 61-60.

Wofford opened the contest with a 6-0 run and led by as many as eight points before the Spartans rallied to tie the score at 12 with just over 10 minutes remaining in the half.

After a second tie at 15, a three-pointer from senior Kristin Bradley followed by a layup from sophomore April Moorhouse gave the Terriers a five-point lead, but the Spartans answered with a 6-0 run to take a 23-22 lead with 4:27 remaining in the half.

The last four minutes of the half saw the Terrier defense hold the Spartans scoreless while a combined offensive effort from Williams, Kathlyn Varno, and Kelly Dwyer helped Wofford to a 31-23 lead heading into the break. The eight-point advantage marks the largest lead this season that the Terriers have held at the half.

The Terriers struggled at the opening of the second half, allowing the Spartans an 11-3 scoring run which ended in the third tie of the game at 34. A three-pointer from freshman Mariah Masalin gave the Terriers the advantage, but a layup and free throw from UNC evened the score again at 37 with 12:20 remaining in the game.

A layup from Kelly Dwyer gave Wofford a small advantage, which the Terriers were able to hold on to for almost three minutes before the Spartans scored to even the game at 43. A 9-4 run for UNC Greensboro earned the Spartans their largest lead of the game at 52-47 with six minutes remaining, but a good layup from Williams surrounded by four made free throws from the junior tied the score at 53 with just under five minutes remaining.

UNC Greensboro missed its next shot, giving the Terriers a chance at the lead, and a fadeaway jumper from freshman Domi Gergely followed by a free throw put Wofford up by three points. UNC Greensboro's Monique Floyd responded with a layup and free throw of her own to tie the score at 56, and the teams exchanged jumpers leaving the score tied at 58 with one minute remaining.

In the last minute of play, the Spartans' Amanda Leigh connected on a two-point shot to give UNC Greensboro the 60-58 advantage with only thirty seconds remaining. After a Terrier timeout, senior Kelly Dwyer scored what would be the game-winning three-pointer, as the Spartans' final attempt fell short, giving the Terriers the 61-60 victory.

Junior Mahogany Williams led the Terriers with 14 points and 12 rebounds, her third straight double-double. Sophomore April Moorhouse added 11 points while senior Kelly Dwyer contributed 10. Freshman Rachel Brittenham paced the team with 5 assists while adding two steals. Senior Kathlyn Varno added six points and six rebounds in the win.

The Spartans were led by junior Amanda Leigh's 21 points, while junior Monique Floyd added 13 points off the bench. Senior Lakhia Hyson grabbed seven boards and three steals for the Spartans.

January 11, 2010

CHARLESTON, S.C. -- Despite a strong opening run, the Terrier women's basketball team fell 65-52 to the College of Charleston Cougars in Southern Conference action Monday.

The Terriers opened the game with an 11-2 run behind four points and four rebounds from sophomore April Moorhouse in the first five minutes.

The Cougars responded with 17 unanswered points, capitalizing on several Terrier miscues to take a 19-11 lead. College of Charleston's defense held the Terriers scoreless for nearly five minutes during the run until a three-pointer from Kelly Dwyer at the 10:51 mark broke the dry spell.

A jumper from Moorhouse put the Terriers within two points, bringing the score to 26-28 with 4:31 remaining in the half. The Cougars ran off another six unanswered points in a three-minute period, helping them to a comfortable 39-27 lead at the half.

Dwyer paced the Terriers with nine points in the first half, while Moorhouse added eight points and paced the team with five rebounds.

College of Charleston ran off six straight points to open the second half, giving the team a 45-27 lead. Senior Natalie Gramblin opened scoring for the Terriers with a two-pointer at the 18:01 mark, then proceeded to score three off a good jumper and free throw to bring the score to 47-32.

The Terriers were able to bring the score within 10 points with 7:28 remaining, but could not break into the single-digit deficit. College of Charleston continued to score from the field and claimed the 65-52 win.

College of Charleston was led by Brooke Kotcella's 15 points. Deirdra Jones added 11 points and paced the team with six rebounds, while Jade Hughes contributed 12 points in the win.

Natalie Gramblin paced the Terriers with 13 points while Kelly Dwyer added 11 points and led the team with six rebounds. Sophomore April Moorhouse scored eight points and grabbed six boards for Wofford. The Terriers were plagued by 33 turnovers in the contest.

With the win, College of Charleston improves to 11-5 overall and 6-2 in the Southern Conference while Wofford falls to 2-12 on the season and 1-6 in league play. The Terriers return home to host Georgia Southern on Saturday, January 16 in a 3:00 p.m. tilt.

Game 15

Wofford 56, Georgia Southern 58
January 16, 2010

SPARTANBURG, S.C. -- The Wofford women's basketball team used a 13-0 run to close out the game, but a three-pointer with six seconds left missed the mark and the Terriers were defeated 58-56 by Georgia Southern on Saturday afternoon at Benjamin Johnson Arena.

The Terriers opened the game with a 7-0 run, and although the Eagles got within three points more than once, Wofford was able to hold onto the lead until the 11:42 mark when a layup from Janay Wilson tied the score at 12. Georgia Southern took its first lead of the game at 9:38 off two good free throws from Briana Scott, but the Terriers quickly rebuilt a five-point lead.

The first half saw five more tied scores before Georgia Southern managed a two-point lead off a layup from Wilson with 27 seconds remaining. A Terrier missed three-pointer left the score at 35-37 at halftime.

Neither team scored in the first two minutes of the second half, and a layup from Kelly Dwyer put the first points on the board, tying the score at 37. After a brief Terrier lead at 39-38, Georgia Southern went on a 13-0 run, taking a 52-39 lead with 12 minutes remaining in the game. The Eagles would lead by as many as 16 points before Wofford responded with a 13-point run of their own, but the effort fell short as the Terriers did not connect on a final shot, falling 56-58.

Carolyn Whitney paced the Eagles with 15 points while J'Lisia Ogburn, Jamie Navarro and Janay Wilson each added eight.

Senior Natalie Gramblin led the Terriers with 13 points and Kelly Dwyer contributed 12 points and six steals. Junior Mahogany Williams paced the team with six rebounds and four blocks.

With the win, Georgia Southern improves to 9-8 overall and evens its Southern Conference record at 4-4 while the Terriers fall to 2-13 overall and 1-7 in league play. Wofford will hit the road on Monday, January 18 as they travel to Elon to take on the Phoenix. Tip off is set for 7:00 p.m.

ELON, N.C. – The Wofford women's basketball team rallied from a first-half deficit to send the game into overtime and secure a 61-60 win over Southern Conference foe Elon on Monday.

Both teams opened the contest scoreless for the first two minutes, with Elon putting points on the board first at the 17:53 mark. Wofford struggled to connect in the field, and scored its first four points off free throws from Ashley Kroker and Kathryn Varno before Mahogany Williams connected on the first field goal for the Terriers with 6:36 remaining in the first half.

The Phoenix capitalized on the Terriers' scoring troubles by running up a 20-5 advantage, but committed four fouls that kept Wofford in the half, as the Terriers connected on 6-7 free throw shots to bring the score within three at 19-22. Elon stepped up in the final minutes of the half to score a 6-0 run, bringing the score to 28-19 at the half.

The Terrier offense recovered in the second half, led by Mahogany Williams' six straight points to open the half. Five minutes into the period, a three-pointer from freshman Rachel Brittenham gave the Terriers their first lead of the game at 32-31. Wofford was able to stretch its lead to five points with 8:51 remaining in the game.

The Phoenix' leading scorer Ali Ford responded with a three-pointer to tie the score at 57 with 35 seconds remaining, and a Phoenix miscue gave Elon the ball back with 33 seconds left.

The Phoenix missed a jumper, giving the Terriers possession with three seconds remaining in regulation, but Wofford could not bring the ball down the court, sending the game into overtime.

The Terriers scored first in overtime, with Natalie Gramblin connecting on a jumper to take the two-point lead. A made free throw plus two points from Courtney Medley put the Phoenix up by one, but Wofford responded with a jumper to take the one-point lead with 1:39 remaining. The two teams traded shots, but neither connected, and a Phoenix in-bound was tipped away by Natalie Gramblin to secure the 61-60 win for the Terriers.

Game 22

Wofford 53, Furman 47
February 8, 2010

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – The Wofford women's basketball team picked up an important Southern Conference win over nearby rival Furman on Monday by a score of 53-47.

The Terriers opened scoring first with a two-pointer from freshman Rachel Brittenham, but the Paladins claimed the early lead, responding with a three from Kali Holtfreter that jump started a 9-0 run to put Furman up 9-2 at the 16:23 mark.

The Paladins were able to maintain the lead until a layup from senior Kathryn Varno evened the score at 11 with 13:43 remaining in the first half. Less than 30 seconds later, Furman's Kendra Berry connected on a layup to spark another Paladin run, this time giving Furman a 22-13 advantage before a Mahogany Williams' layup broke the Terriers' scoring drought at the 8:34 mark.

Wofford brought the score within four with 6:22 remaining, but the Paladins answered to maintain control of the game. At the 2:16 mark, a Furman foul put Kelly Dwyer at the line, where she connected on both free throws to cut the Paladin lead to three points. Another Furman foul with 0.4 seconds remaining gave Rachel Brittenham the chance to tie the score, and she made two of three shots to bring the score to 26-27 heading into halftime.

April Moorhouse opened the second half for the Terriers with a made free throw to tie the score at 27, and after two good free throws for Furman, a Varno layup evened the score again at 29. Wofford took the momentum, going on a six point run to take a 35-29 lead with 13:36 remaining in the game. The Paladins were able to bring the score within three points off the strength of two consecutive layups at the 8:45 mark, but the Terriers responded and pushed their advantage to nine points with 5:31 remaining.

Over the next two minutes, Furman would connect on two three-pointers, cutting the Wofford lead to three points, but the Paladins' failed to score again for the remainder of the game. A good two-pointer from Dwyer and a made free throw from Williams sealed the 53-47 win for the Terriers.

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Senior Tonia Gerty led two players in double-digit scoring with 16 points as College of Charleston recorded a 65-51 win over Wofford in women's basketball action Monday.

Both teams opened the game scoreless for more than three minutes before Wofford's Mahogany Williams scored the first bucket at the 16:39 mark. A three-pointer from College of Charleston's Ericka Williams 17 seconds later would give the Cougars the lead. The Terriers were able to tie the score at nine off a three-pointer from Natalie Gramblin, but could not regain the lead, allowing College of Charleston to build a double-digit advantage with five minutes remaining in the half.

The Terriers cut the lead into the single digits off a good free throw from Kathryn Varno, but a team total of eight field goals in the first half was not enough to match the Cougar offense, and College of Charleston headed into halftime with a 33-20 lead.

The second half saw Wofford nearly match College of Charleston in scoring, with 31 points to the Cougars' 32, but the Terriers were unable to overcome the double-digit deficit that the Cougars amassed in the first period.

College of Charleston built its lead to 21 points in the first three minutes of the second half, and led by as many as 25 points before the Terriers answered with a run of their own. A three-pointer from Natalie Gramblin at the 5:06 mark spurred a 13-3 run for Wofford, but it was not enough as the Cougars' Tonia Gerty connected on a layup with 30 seconds remaining to seal the 65-51 win for College of Charleston.

Gerty recorded 16 points, five rebounds and six assists in the contest while Ericka Williams added 15 points and was one rebound shy of a double-double with nine boards. Deidra Jones added eight points.

The Terriers were led by Mahogany Williams' 14 points and eight rebounds. Senior Natalie Gramblin contributed 10 points and senior Kelly Dwyer added seven points, three assists and three blocks.

Wofford returns to action Saturday, February 20 as the Terriers travel to Statesboro, Ga. to face Georgia Southern. Tip off is set for 12:00 p.m. in Hanner Fieldhouse.

February 22, 2010

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Senior Natalie Gramblin led four Terriers in double-digit scoring with 13 points as the Wofford women's basketball team earned a key Southern Conference win over Elon on Monday.

The first half saw six ties and 13 lead changes as neither team was able to gain an advantage greater than four points. Game 27

Appalachian State 76, Wofford 62
February 25, 2010

BOONE, N.C. – Despite a tie score at the half, the Wofford women's basketball team fell to Appalachian State by a score of 76-62 in Southern Conference action Thursday.

The Mountaineers opened the game with a 5-0 run, but Wofford responded with a run of its own to take a 10-7 lead at the 14:13 mark. The score remained close until a three-pointer from Anna Freeman put Appalachian State up by six points at 21-15.

The Terriers were again able to recover, stepping up on defense to hold the Mountaineers to two points while bringing their own score to 24 to take the one point lead. The teams traded baskets, leaving the Terriers the 26-25 advantage with three seconds left, but a late foul and subsequent made free throw from Appalachian State's Sam Ramirez evened the score at 26 heading into halftime.

Both teams came out strong in the second half, trading baskets and keeping the score tight until a pair of made free throws by Natalie Gramblin sparked an 8-0 run for the Terriers, giving them the 43-35 advantage with 13:13 remaining to play. The Mountaineers responded with 12 unanswered points of their own, knotting the game at 43, then taking a 47-43 lead.

Game 28

Wofford 75, Western Carolina 71
February 27, 2010

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Junior Mahogany Williams led three Terriers in double-digit points as the Wofford women's basketball team held on for a key overtime Southern Conference win over Western Carolina, 75-71.

The Terriers scored a quick five points to open the game, but Western Carolina answered and tied the score at 5 at the 15:21 mark. From there, the Catamounts went on a 9-0 run and stretched their lead to as many as 10 points before Wofford responded. A good jumper from senior Kristin Bradley was the spark the Terriers needed, and the team scored nine straight points before the run was stopped.

Western Carolina sank a two-pointer and then a three to claim a five-point lead with 4:42 remaining in the half, but the Terriers had an answer in the form of freshman Daniella Motley, who scored four straight points to cut the Catamount lead to one. Two made Terrier free throws gave Wofford the one-point advantage, but the Catamounts were able to sneak in two jumpers before the buzzer, giving them a 27-24 lead at halftime.

A jumper from Caitlin Hollifield to open the second half gave Western Carolina a five-point lead, the largest either team would see for the remainder of the second half. Senior Kelly Dwyer connected on two straight three-pointers to put the Terriers up by one, and over the next three minutes of play, the teams were deadlocked with tied scores on three occasions.

With the score knotted at 34 with 15:20 remaining, two Terrier layups gave Wofford its largest lead of the half at four points, but Western Carolina's Feemster answered with two of her own. The teams traded baskets and two made free throws for the Catamounts tied the score again at 42 with 8:39 left to play in regulation.

The remaining time would see three additional tied scores, as the teams battled for any advantage. A jumper from Rachel Brittenham put the score at 57-57 with 17 seconds remaining, but a foul called on the Terriers gave Western Carolina's Jessica Jackson a chance to seal the win at the line. Jackson missed both free throws, sending the game into overtime.

The Terriers came out strong in the overtime period, scoring eight unanswered points in the first two and a half minutes. A three-pointer from Jackson with 43 seconds remaining put the Catamounts within three, but senior Kelly Dwyer sank three free throws to give the Terriers a more comfortable six-point lead.

Jackson sank another three-pointer with four seconds on the clock, bringing the score within two and giving the Catamounts a chance to send the game to a second overtime, but Wofford's Kristin Bradley knocked down both free throws to seal the 75-71 win for the Terriers.

The Terriers' were led by Mahogany Williams, who notched a double-double with 18 points and 10 rebounds while also adding four blocks. Seniors Kelly Dwyer and Natalie Gramblin added 14 and 13 points, respectively. As a team, the Terriers went 23-52 from the field for a .442 field goal percentage.

HONORS & AWARDS

Southern Conference Player of the Year Jenny Nett 2001-02

As a senior, Nett led the conference in scoring in and recorded two of the top performances of the season. She tallied 38 points against Western Carolina on December 30 and turned in a 37 point performance against Appalachian State on February 16. Nett was also among the conference leaders in rebounding, averaging 5.4 boards per game and was 15th in field goal percentage, shooting 44.1 percent. She finished the season ranked 14th nationally in scoring, averaging 21.1 points per game and 5.5 rebounds.

In addition to being named the Southern Conference Player of the Year, Nett was also selected to the 2001 Verizon Academic All-America Women's Basketball University Division First Team. This marked the first All-America honor for the guard from Louisville, Ky., who was named to the Academic All-District III team twice in her career. She is also a member of the Phi Beta Kappa national honor society and a recipient of Wofford's Richardson Scholarship, a full scholarship given to just one student in each academic class.

Nett owns the Wofford records for career scoring (1,896 points, avg. 17.1 ppg), points in a season (613 this year), and points in a game (38, Dec. 30 vs. Western Carolina), and places on the top ten lists in all-time rebounding, assists, and steals. In 2002, she led her team to its first ever appearance in the semifinals of the SoCon Tournament and an overtime game with eventual champion Chattanooga. Nett earned All-Southern Conference honors all four years of her career at Wofford.

Southern Conference Freshman of the Year Mahagony Williams 2007-08

Mahagony Williams, a forward from Little Rock, Ark., was named the Southern Conference Freshman of the Year for the 2007-08 season. Williams led all league freshman in scoring, averaging 8.3 points per game and rebounding, grabbing 6.6 boards per game. She also led all SoCon players in blocks per game with 2.03.

Williams was the first Terrier to claim the league honor, and was also named to the Southern Conference All-Freshman team by both the coaches and the media association. Williams capped her freshman year by recording three double-doubles in the final six games, including a 12-point, 17-rebound performance against Davidson. The freshman set a career high with 17 boards and fell one shy of the Division I single game school record. Her .502 field goal percentage was the highest on the team and was fifth in the Southern Conference.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

THE JOE E. TAYLOR CENTER

Wofford alumnus and South Carolina Secretary of Commerce Joe Taylor donated $1 million for the renovation of the Curry Building into the Joe E. Taylor Athletic Center. The Taylor Center features a 7,000 square foot weight room and offices for athletic department staff. The building, located next to Gibbs Stadium, was completed in June of 2009.

The weight room facility is equipped with a total of 24 racks with built-in pull-up bars and nearly 25,000 pounds of plates, dumbbells and olympic weights. The 24 racks are divided, with twelve used with platforms and twelve used with benches. Additional equipment includes four pulldown machines, four low row machines, five power runners, six glute/ham machines, two decline ab machines, a leg press and exercise bike. Also included is a large area of Mondo track flooring, which is used with the step-up boxes, plyo boxes and hurdle sets in speed development.

The Taylor Center also provides offices for administration and numerous sports, including men's and women's soccer, baseball, men's and women's golf, volleyball, men's and women's tennis and cross country and track and field. A conference room and several work areas give the coaching staff much needed space.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Wofford College Strength and Conditioning Department embraces the mission of both the college and athletic department. The mission of our program is to foster a positive, safe, challenging, and training environment. Our approach allows coaches, athletic trainers, and athletes to work together towards developing an athlete's full physical and mental potential.

A focal point of our training programs will be to not spend too much time training one specific aspect of development, but to train with balance. We will be hitting all areas, not neglecting another to prevent injury. Our coaches will inspire the athletes to be consistent, disciplined, and to put forth a great effort every day; never allowing their feelings to affect their performance.

THE PHILOSOPHY

The Strength and Conditioning Program consists of a year-round training philosophy designed to improve all aspects of physical and mental development of each athlete. The training cycles consist of different phases, all of which follow sound fundamental training principle and periodization ranging from low to high intensity and high to low volume. These are all encompassing sport specific macrocycles, mesocycles, and microcycles, which will allow each athlete the best opportunity for reaching maximum genetic potential.

GOAL

The goal is to improve the strength, speed, agility, balance, and coordination of the athletes. We will further develop proprioception, kinesthetic awareness, eye-hand and eye-foot coordination. We will be focusing on injury prevention, flexibility, and overall power of the athletes trained under the direction of the strength and conditioning department. This will enable each athlete to have the skills and tools necessary to achieve success.

THE RICHARDSON BUILDING

THE RICHARDSON BUILDING

The home of the Wofford College Athletic Department is the Richardson Physical Activities Building. The facility includes offices for the administration, football, basketball and other sports on the second floor. Also included on the second floor is an aerobic dance room and weight room with machine and free weights along with a variety of cardio machines. Locker rooms for football, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's soccer and a training room are located on the first floor.

Wofford alumnus and Carolina Panthers owner Jerry Richardson made a $1 million donation in 2008 that was used for enhancing the Richardson Building. Numerous improvements were made in the twelve-year old facility to ensure that it is one of the most advanced athletic facilities in the nation.

Enhancements to the Richardson Building include new paint and carpet in the entire facility. The coaching and administration suites have been reconfigured to provide better reception areas. Football and men's basketball offices are outfitted with a new video system, including computers, editing software and large-screen monitors. This new system is similar to those being used by the NFL and NBA.

Inside the Harley Room, a new audio/video system was installed to handle the variety of events held in the room. New displays for academic honors, Southern Conference honors and the Hall of Fame are a part of the project. Additional murals and photos compliment the building and give it a fresh look.

In addition, the fitness facilities have been upgraded as well. Nearly $100,000 worth of new equipment was added to supplement the current selection of treadmills and elliptical machines. The cardio area features six flat panel televisions for viewing while working out. The fitness area is used by the entire student body at Wofford.

BENJAMIN JOHNSON ARENA

Wofford College's Benjamin Johnson Arena, one of the most intimidating arenas in the Southern Conference, will be the home of the Terrier men's and women's basketball teams for the 29th consecutive year in 2009-10.

The Terriers have played over 350 games in the BenJo, as it is affectionately called. Over the first 28 years, Wofford has won 176 games. In four seasons, Wofford has won at least 10 games, including a perfect 12-0 slate during the 1992-93 season.

One of the most enriching features of the Benjamin Johnson Arena is the parquet floor that is the playing surface for the Terrier basketball team. Wofford is one of the few schools in the United States to play all of its home games on a parquet floor, similar to the famed parquet floor used in the old Boston Garden by the Boston Celtics.

Many great players have raced up and down the famed parquet floor of the Benjamin Johnson Arena. In 2005, to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the arena, Wofford selected its 10 greatest men's players as part of the 25th Anniversary Team.

The arena opened on Jan. 22, 1981 as Wofford scored a 74-25 win over Sacred Heart with Patricia Gainey on the bench as the Terrier head coach. The Terriers led by 33 points at the half. The Terriers scored the first of many victories in BJA on Jan. 26, 1981 with a 76-72 win over Newberry.

The Terriers' longest winning streak in the BenJo lasted from Feb. 27, 1991 through Jan. 18, 1993. During that stretch, Wofford won 17 consecutive home games including the undefeated 12-0 mark of 1991-92. In 2009, the Davidson game on February 12 saw a crowd of 3,500 fill the building. The sell-out crowd was the second in Benjamin Johnson Arena history.

Wofford moved into the Benjamin Johnson Arena in 1981 after playing in adjacent Andrews Field House. The Terrier women's time in Andrews Field House was short lived, as the program began the 1980-81 season with a loss against Newberry and a win over Warren Wilson before moving into Benjamin Johnson Arena. The $4.5 million arena is part of the Campus Life Building, which was designed to serve as the center of athletic, social and cultural activity on campus.

The arena is named after Benjamin O. Johnson '30 who was a Spartanburg textile executive associated with Spartan Mills. Mr. Johnson was also a trustee of Wofford College as well as a benefactor. He was a champion chess player in his youth and later became one of the nation's best-known bridge players. He served as president of the American Contract Bridge League and captained the American team in international competition.

Richardson was an Associated Press Little All-America selection in 1957 and '58. Drafted by the defending world champion Colts, Richardson played two seasons in the NFL, earning Colt Rookie of the Year honors in 1959 and finishing third in the balloting for top NFL rookie. As a senior at Wofford, he scored 72 points on nine touchdowns, 12 extra points and two field goals. He is the founder and owner of the Carolina Panthers.

THE CAROLINA PANTHERS

The Carolina Panthers have held training camp at Wofford since their inaugural season in 1995. The camp provides Wofford tremendous national exposure and visibility. Media members that visit Wofford during the five-week camp include ESPN, Fox Sports Net, USA Today and Sports Illustrated. Local print and television media from markets including Columbia, Charlotte, Raleigh/Durham/Chapel Hill, Asheville and Greensboro/Winston-Salem are on campus on a daily basis.

According to SI.com's Tim Layden, "as I like to think of it: Training Camp Heaven. Wofford is 70 miles west of Charlotte on I-85, and presents all the reasons why there is something special about taking the team on the road for camp. Three pristine, Bermuda-grass fields with a stand of tall pines on two sides and a steep hillside -- where fans sit and watch -- on another. Fans, many of them young boys and girls, lined up along the fence, getting autographs after practice. It's a scene straight out of football's past."

PHI BETA KAPPA

At the end of the last academic year, there were approximately 2,000 four-year colleges in the United States. Only 262 of them have the right to induct their graduates into Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's most prestigious liberal arts honor society. There are five independent Phi Beta Kappa colleges and universities in the Carolinas: Wofford, Davidson, Duke, Furman and Wake Forest.

Phi Beta Kappa has an interesting history. Founded at the College of William and Mary in December 1776, Phi Beta Kappa was the first of the Greek letter fraternities and adopted such rituals as the badge, the secret oath, and the special handclasp from the various secret societies of the day.

Phi Beta Kappa, however, was also devoted to the principles of "friendship, morality, and literature (or learning)," and these characteristics gradually attained the greatest emphasis. John Quincy Adams, Edward Everett and Joseph Story, members of the Harvard chapter, are credited with making the fraternity a public literary and honor society for undergraduates in the 1830's. Women were first admitted to Phi Beta Kappa in 1875 at the University of Vermont.

Only two chapters of Phi Beta Kappa existed in the Southeast before 1900, but gradually the historic state universities and the most outstanding private colleges began to secure chapters. The process of earning a charter often takes many years and standards are very high. Final approval comes by vote of all the chapters at the triennial meetings of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. At the August 1994 triennial meeting in San Francisco, 53 colleges and universities sought chapters, but only seven institutions even qualified for a vote.

Wofford received its chapter at the 1940 triennial meeting, bringing to fruition more than ten years of work by three Phi Beta Kappa members who were then serving on the faculty: President Henry Nelson Snyder, Dr. David Duncan Wallace, class of 1894, and Dr. John West Harris '16, a brash and brilliant young English professor not afraid to campaign vigorously in the conviction that his alma mater deserved membership. (Dr. Harris later founded the National Beta Club, which still has its headquarters in Spartanburg).

Clark Powell '09 is the latest men's soccer player to be inducted into Phi Beta Kappa at Wofford. He is the ninth student-athlete from men's soccer and the first since 2006. Powell, from Birmingham, Alabama, graduated magna cum laude with a double major in biology and Spanish.

With about 350,000 members across the country, Phi Beta Kappa today sponsors numerous programs to encourage scholarship and learning, including the Phi Beta Kappa Book Awards and the visiting scholar, academic fellowship and leadership programs.

For these reasons, Phi Beta Kappa Day at Wofford has institutional significance, as well as being especially memorable for the new members, each of whom will receive the traditional Phi Beta Kappa watch key or pin.

THIS IS SPARTANBURG

THE HUB CITY

The City's origins predate the Revolutionary War. Spartanburg was named for a unit of American Revolution forces called the "Spartan Rifles" who helped defeat the British at the Battle of Cowpens in 1781, under the leadership of General Daniel Morgan.

The town of Spartanburg was incorporated in 1831 and later as a city in 1880 by the 13 Original States and Tennessee. During this time Spartanburg was booming due in large part to the rapidly expanding textile industry.

In the 1870s, Spartanburg became a railroad "hub city," with mainline railroads extending from Magnolia Street depot in all directions, taking passengers and freight to Charleston, Augusta, Atlanta, Asheville, Charlotte and points beyond. As many as 90 trains per day could be seen and heard operating in Spartanburg during the golden age of the American railroad, 1900-20.

During the 1920s, Spartanburg built South Carolina's first municipal airport and claimed the state's first commercial radio station (WSPA). Its leadership in the state was reflected by the election of several residents as governor.

Thousands of U.S. soldiers bound for overseas service in World Wars I and II trained at camps in Spartanburg. The post headquarters for Camp Wadsworth (1917-19) was located at the present site of WestGate Mall, and the Camp Croft (1940-45) was located south of the city. Much of that military reservation has become Croft

State Park.

After World War II, Spartanburg made a concerted effort to promote its location at the junction of Interstates 85 and 26 to international business. One of the greatest successes of this campaign was the development of the BMW manufacturing center near the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport.

Spartanburg's downtown, which always has been anchored by the campuses of Wofford and Converse Colleges, has been undergoing a major revival since the mid-1990s. In addition to the corporate headquarters for Denny's, Advance America, QS-1 and several other companies, the city has acquired a magnificent public library, the Marriott Hotel at Renaissance Park and most recently, the Chapman Arts Center and the USC Upstate George Dean Johnson School of Business. The area surrounding Morgan Square gradually is redeveloping with a variety of interesting restaurants and urban apartment-style housing.

Throughout the 20th century, textile manufacturing companies formed the backbone of the Spartanburg economy. The most significant of these companies still in operation is internationally respected Milliken & Company.

Blessed by geography and climate as well as by energetic and well-educated citizenry, Spartanburg is emerging as one of the centers of a 21st century metropolis that extends along the South Carolina portion of the I-85 corridor.

THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE

The Southern Conference, which began its 89th season of intercollegiate competition in 2009, is a national leader in emphasizing the development of the student-athlete and in helping to build lifelong leaders and role models.

The Southern Conference has been on the forefront of innovation and originality in developing creative solutions to address issues facing intercollegiate athletics. From establishing the first conference basketball tournament (1921), tackling the issue of freshmen eligibility (1922), developing women's championships (1984), to becoming the first conference to install the three-point goal in basketball (1980), the Southern Conference has been a pioneer.

The Southern Conference is the nation's fifth-oldest NCAA Division I collegiate athletic association. Only the Big Ten (1896), the Missouri Valley (1907), the Pacific 10 (1915) and the Southwestern Athletic (1920) conferences are older in terms of origination.

Academic excellence has been a major part of the Southern Conference's tradition. Hundreds of Southern Conference student-athletes have been recognized on ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-America and all-district teams. A total of 19 Rhodes Scholarship winners have been selected from conference institutions.

The Conference currently consists of 12 members in five states throughout the Southeast and sponsors 19 varsity sports and championships that produce participants for NCAA Division I Championships.

The Southern Conference offices are located in the historic Beaumont Mill in Spartanburg, S.C. A textile mill that was in operation from 1880 until 1999, Beaumont Mill was renovated in 2004 and today offers the league first class meeting areas and offices as well as a spacious library for storage of the conference's historical documents.

MEMBERSHIP HISTORY

On Feb. 25, 1921, representatives from 14 of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association's (SIAA) 30 members met at Atlanta's Piedmont Hotel to establish the Southern Intercollegiate Conference. On hand at the inaugural meeting were officials from Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), Clemson, Georgia, Georgia School of Technology (Georgia Tech), Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi A&M (Mississippi State), North Carolina, North Carolina State, Tennessee, Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute (Virginia Tech) and Washington & Lee.

Dr. S.V. Sanford of Georgia was chosen as acting chairman and N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee was named secretary. The decision to form a new athletic conference was motivated by the desire to have a workable number of conference games for each league member. With 30 schools in the SIAA by the early 1920s, it was impossible to play every school at least once during the regular season and many schools went several years between playing some conference members. In addition, in 1920, the SIAA voted down proposed rules that an athlete must be in a college a year before playing on its teams and refused to abolish a rule permitting athletes to play summer baseball for money.

Play began in the fall of 1921 and a year later, six more schools joined the fledgling league including Tulane (which had attended the inaugural meeting but had elected not to join), Florida, Louisiana (LSU), Mississippi, South Carolina and Vanderbilt. VMI joined in 1925 and Duke was added in 1929.

By the 1930s, membership in the Southern Conference had reached 23 schools. C.P. "Sally" Miles of Virginia Tech, president of the Southern Conference, called the annual league meeting to order on Dec. 9, 1932 at the Farragut Hotel in Knoxville, Tenn. Georgia's Dr. Sanford announced that 13 institutions west and south of the Appalachian Mountains were reorganizing as the Southeastern Conference. Members of the new league included Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Florida, Georgia, Georgia School of Technology, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Mississippi A&M, University of the South, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

According to the minutes of the meeting, Dr. Sanford stated that the division was made along geographical lines. Florida's Dr. J.J. Tigert, acting as spokesman for the withdrawing group, regretted the move but believed it was necessary as the Southern Conference had grown too large. The resignations were accepted and the withdrawing schools formed the new league which began play in 1932.

The Southern Conference office is located in the refurbished Beaumont Mill in Spartanburg, less than a mile from the Wofford campus.

The Southern Conference continued with membership of 10 institutions including Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina, Virginia, VMI, Virginia Tech and Washington & Lee.

The second major shift occurred some 20 years later. By 1952, the Southern Conference included 17 colleges and universities. Another split occurred when seven schools including Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest departed to form the Atlantic Coast Conference which began play in 1953. The revamped Southern Conference included members The Citadel, Davidson, Furman, George Washington, Richmond, VMI, Virginia Tech, Washington & Lee, West Virginia and William & Mary.

Today, the league continues to thrive with a membership that includes 12 institutions and a footprint that spans five states: Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama and Georgia. Current league members are Appalachian State, College of Charleston, The Citadel, Davidson, Elon, Furman, Georgia Southern, UNC Greensboro, Samford, Chattanooga, Western Carolina and Wofford.

CHAMPIONSHIP HISTORY

The first Southern Conference Championship was the league basketball tournament held in Atlanta in 1922. The North Carolina Tar Heels won the tournament to become the first recognized league champion in any sport. The Southern Conference Tournament remains the oldest of its kind in college basketball.

Commissioner Germann spearheaded the Southern Conference's expansion to include women's athletics during the 1983-84 season. That year, league championships were held in volleyball, basketball and tennis. Cross country joined the mix in 1985 and the league began holding indoor and outdoor track championships in 1988. Most recently, the conference instituted golf and softball championships in the spring of 1994 and added soccer in the fall of 1994.

The Southern Conference declares champions in 10 men's sports - football, soccer, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, wrestling, baseball, tennis and golf - and nine women's sports - soccer, volleyball, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track & field, tennis, golf and softball.

Wofford won the 2003 and 2007 SoCon Football Championships.

Wofford won the 2009 Men's Soccer Regular Season and Tournament Championships.
